

Community Partnerships Assistance Request Form

ATSDR Brownfield / Land Reuse Steering Committee

About this Form

This form is a suggested template you can use to tell us about your community and community concerns about land reuse sites. Please fill in as much information as possible to help us learn how we can assist you. After you complete it, e-mail this form to atsdr.landreuse@cdc.gov. You may attach additional documents such as a page of photos, newspaper articles, and other descriptive reports or documents that highlight the community concerns. Include "Community Partnership Request" in the subject line. Add a "Save As" option to this form and include your initials and the date. Please include a signed, scanned statement acknowledging that your project may be featured on public Web sites, in print, or in presentations as a model for other communities.

Tell Us about your Community

What are the demographics, underserved areas, and sensitive populations? Do you have any health statistics you are concerned about? Cite reliable data sources such as U.S. Census, health department, peer-reviewed research, or publicly available data sources.

What Potentially Contaminated Sites are of Concern to the Community?

Describe at least one site (multiple sites may be described) believed to present exposures to the community. Include the site name (if known), site address, details such as proximity to sensitive populations, effects on property values, and other concerns.

Are there any Environmental and Health Concerns Associated with the Site(s)?

Summarize environmental and health concerns related to the site(s). Include a specific request for assistance from the Steering Committee, such as review of a master plan, resources for community agriculture, or health education about contamination and exposure.

Who is Involved?

Describe community members and groups involved in a revitalization vision for the community. Include names, phone numbers, and addresses of partners. Include any examples of successful projects related to revitalization conducted through or by these partnerships. Describe any funding you have received.
